MAN WHO ROBBED SAFE AT EVERETT ARRESTED FOR SIMILAR OFFENSE

Hugh Lane, "Cork Slim" the safe cracker, who was arrested four years ago by Postal Inspector William Calvert on a charge of blowing the safe at Everett, is locked up again, this time for blasting the postoffice safe at Fredericktown Washington county.

Following the dynamiting of this safe, Inspector Calvert was put on the job and it developed that Lane, John Hogan, Harry Lynch and Jack Ramsey, who were arrested when police raided a houseboat on Monongahela river at Glassport, had blown the postoffice safe.

Calvert made an investigation and was able to find enough evidence to hold them. They were arrested at first as suspects in the hold-up act at Findleyville. However Hogan was the only man of the four who could be found, evidence connecting him with this crime.

The three were held for United States court at Erie in September while Hogan was turned back to the commonwealth.

Lane served 15 years in Maryland for blowing a safe at Cumberland and was pardoned in 1915 and a year later pulled the Everett job for which he served four years, being released January 16 of this year.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS PROHIBITION AMENDMENT VALID

VOLSTEAD ACT ALSO VALID. Congress May Determine What is Intoxicating.

The prohibition amendment and the enforcement act were held constitutional by the Supreme Court today in an unanimous decision.

While attorneys for the interests attacking the two measures were granted permission to file motions for rehearings, the decision was regarded generally as striking a death blow to the hopes of the wets.

The court's opinion rendered by Justice Van De Vanter was sweeping. It held that the amendment not only came within the amending power conferred by the Federal Constitution, but was lawfully proposed and now was the law of the land. While recognizing that congress has limitations in respect to the enforcement of laws regarding beverages, the court held those limits were not transcended in the enactment of the enforcement act restricting alcoholic content of intoxicants to one-half of one per cent.

While New York, New Jersey and Wisconsin acts permitting manufacture and sale of beverages of more than one-half of one percent of alcoholic content, were not directly involved, the decision was interpreted as invalidating them. The court said that the first section of the amendment of its own force invalidates any legislative act whether by congress, a state legislature or by a territorial assembly which authorizes or sanctions what the section prohibits.

Concurrent power granted by the amendment to Federal and State governments to enforce prohibition, the court held "does not enable Congress or the several states to defeat or thwart prohibition, but only to enforce it by appropriate means."

While agreeing as to the validity of the amendment and enforcement act, Justice McKenna and Clarke dissented from the majority interpretation of the concurrent power of Federal and State governments to enforce prohibition.

Chief Justice heard that the court should set forth the reasoning for its decision. He did this in a supplemental opinion. Justice McKenna in a brief statement declared he was of the opinion that it was impossible to say at this time what construction should be given to the amendment. He added that "because of the bewildering which the amendment creates" he proposed to remain free to consider the multitude of questions which will "inevitably arise and demand solution."

The decision of the court was set forth in 11 conclusions, covering seven separate proceedings. These proceedings included original suits brought by the State of Rhode Island directly attacking the constitutionality of the amendment.

The conclusions of the Court follow:

First—The adoption by both houses of Congress, each by a two-thirds vote, of a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution sufficiently shows that the proposal was deemed necessary by all who voted for it. An express declaration that they regarded it as necessary is not essential. None of the resolutions whereby prior amendments were proposed contained such a declaration.

Second—The two-thirds vote in each house which is required in proposing an amendment is a vote of two-thirds of the members present—assuming the presence of a quorum—and not a vote of two-thirds of the entire membership present and absent Missouri Pacific Railway Company vs. Kansas, 248 U. S. 276.

Third—The referendum provisions of State constitutions and statutes cannot be applied, consistently with the Constitution of the United States, in the ratification or rejection of amendments to it. Hawke vs. Smith, U. S. Decided June 1, 1920.

Fourth—The prohibition of the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation and exportation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes as embodied in the Eighteenth Amendment is within the power to amend, reserved by Article V of the Constitution.

Fifth—That amendment by lawful proposal and ratification has become a part of the Constitution and must be respected and given effect the same as other provisions of that instrument.

Six—The first section of the amendment—the one embodying the prohibition—is operative throughout the entire territorial limits of the United States, binds all legislative bodies, Courts, public officers and individuals within those limits, and of its own force invalidates any legislative act—whether by Congress, by a State Legislature or by a Territorial Assembly—which authorizes or sanctions what the section prohibits.

Seven—The second section of the amendment—the one declaring the Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation does not enable Congress or the several States to defeat or thwart the prohibition, but only to enforce it by appropriate means.

States Have No Jurisdiction. Eight—The words "concurrent power" in that section do not mean joint power, or require that legislation there under by Congress, to be effective, shall be approved or sanctioned by the several States or any of them; nor do they mean that the power to enforce is divided between the Congress and the several States along the lines which separate or distinguish foreign and interstate commerce from intrastate affairs.

Nine—The power conferred to Congress by that section while not exclusive, is territorially co-extensive with the prohibition of the first section, embraces manufacture and other intrastate transactions as well as importation, exportation and interstate traffic and is in no wise dependent on or affected by action or inaction on the part of the several States or any of them.

Ten—That power may be exerted against the disposal for beverage purposes of liquor manufactured before the amendment became effective yet as it may be against subsequent manufacture for those purposes. In either case it is a constitutional mandate or prohibition that is being enforced.

Eleven—While recognizing that there are limits beyond which Congress cannot go in treating beverages as within its power of enforcement, we think those limits are not transcended by the provision of the Volstead act, wherein liquors containing as much as one-half of 1 per cent. of alcohol by volume and fit for use for beverage purposes are treated as within that power. Jacob Rupert vs. Caffey, 251 U. S. 264.

GENERAL HOSPITAL NO. 31, CARLISLE PA. DISCONTINUES

The Surgeon General of the Army has been directed to arrange to discontinue U. S. General Hospital No. 31, Carlisle, Pa., as a general hospital on June 30, 1920 and has been authorized to utilize for Medical Field School purposes the Carlisle Barracks Military Reservation, and the acreage adjacent thereto now occupied and controlled by the War Department by virtue of permit from the Secretary of the Interior, dated August 22, 1918, the school to be designated as "Field Service School, Medical Department, U. S. Army."

LOST CHILDREN, FOUND

Last week two little girls one aged 2 years 9 months and the other aged 4 years 6 months near Oceola Mills, Clearfield County were sent to hunt the cows in the evening and the children didn't return. The neighborhood was notified of the lost little girls and searching parties were formed but no results obtained or clues found until Monday when about 5000 people went abreast to scour the woods and fields. At 5:30 P. M. several searchers came upon the little girl aged 4 sitting in a starved condition against the trunk of a tree. When the party went toward her she looked wild and emaciated and made efforts to get away. When they took her up she struggled to get away. A few yards away lay the other baby dead from starvation. They had wandered through the woods so much that their clothing was torn in shreds and by the appearance of the ground around them had been there for a couple of days. The little girl yet alive was taken to a local hospital where they say she will recover her normal mental condition after being given proper and ample nourishment which must be done gradually.

Ex-President Taft, in discussing the Chicago mix-up, refers scathingly to "the five radicals, masquerading as Republicans, who are associated with the nine regular Republicans in opposition to the League, and again to 'the paralyzing party membership of Senators Johnson, La Follette, Borah, Gronna and Norris.' This is all very well as a glittering generality, but it must be remembered that these provincial big-enders give to the Senate Republicans their very slender majority. With Senator Newberry debarred from participation in the Senate proceedings because of his conviction in Michigan the Republicans, including the objectionable five mentioned by Prof. Taft, have only 48 votes to the Democrats' 47. It is, therefore, absolutely necessary for them to make such concessions as the radical five demand, because these hold the whip hand. The tail is wagging the G. O. P. elephant these days. Phila. Record

RAILROADS TO BE GIVEN PROMPT FINANCIAL HELP

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION AWARDS $125,000,000 FOR ROLLING STOCK

FUNDS FOR OTHER NEEDS

First Aid for Roads Making Greatest Advances to Meet Federal Loans.

Immediate appropriation of $125,000,000 of Government funds for the use of the railroads to purchase new rolling stock was announced today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The money will be advanced out of the $300,000,000 revolving fund provided in the transportation act.

Appropriations for additions and betterments to promote the movement of cars were fixed at $73,000,000; appropriations to meet maturing obligations were fixed at $50,000,000 and appropriations for loans to short line carriers at $12,000,000.

Of the total to be advanced for rolling stock, $75,000,000 will be set aside for the purchase of freight cars, with preference given to 20,000 refrigerator cars to move fruit crops and $50,000,000 will be set aside for the acquisition of locomotives, with preference given to freight and switching locomotives.

In each case first allotments will be made to roads making the greatest advances to meet the Government loans. In the case of the advance for locomotives applicants will be required to contribute at least 50 per cent of the costs, but before any passenger locomotives are purchased attention will be given to the need for freight and switching engines by roads which are unable to make 50 per cent. advances.

Roads applying for loans for equipment and betterments also will be required to make contributions "as it is within their power to furnish."

The Commission will not recommend loans out of the $50,000,000 fund for retiring maturing obligation unless the applicants have clearly exhausted every effort to take care of maturities "by extension by refunding and by every other means." Time for filing applications and amendments was extended to June 15 and the Association of Railway Executives which proposed the division of the $300,000,000 revolving fund approved by the Commission which urged to submit its recommendations so that the general distribution of the funds might begin not later than June 26.

GENERAL PERSHING TO RETIRE FROM ARMY SOON

Desires to Engage in Something More Active, Commander of A. E. F. Tells War Secretary.

General Pershing will retire from active service within a few months. He announced his intention today in a letter to Secretary Baker.

The commander of the American Expeditionary Forces declared that he felt he could give up his military service and "thus be free to engage in something more active." The General did not indicate the nature of his future activities.

General Pershing assured Secretary Baker that he would remain in the service until work involved in carrying out the army reorganization act was completed, and gave the added assurance that in any future crisis he would be at the call of the nation.

The General's letter to Secretary Baker, made public by Colonel J. G. Quekemyer, his aide, follows:

"Referring to our conversation of a few days ago, I wish to say that it has long been my desire to return to civil life. Throughout my military career I have been very much occupied and the assignments that have fallen to my lot during the recent years have been more or less important.

"It now appears that my duties are not likely to be of a character that will require more than a portion of my time. Under the circumstances I feel that after the completion of the work contemplated by the army reorganization act, I could relinquish military duty without detriment to the service and thus be free to engage in something more active.

"Therefore, unless a situation should develop to justify my remaining, I contemplate taking the step indicated within the next few months. "Should the necessity arise in a time of crisis or otherwise, I assure you, Mr. Secretary, that I shall stand ready to serve my country in the future as I have in the past."

Sulphur Springs Hotel Not Sold.

Announcement is made that the Sulphur Springs hotel will be conducted under the same management and in the same manner as during former seasons. For some time negotiations have been in progress between owners M. H. Colvin & Co., and a syndicate, having for the purpose the turning of the summer resort into a sanatorium, but it is announced the deal has fallen through.

Mistakes

We made some mistakes yesterday And a few the day before; We wouldn't be at all surprised If today we made some more Should we ever reach the point Aslant life's rocky hill Where we never make mistakes Right then we'll make our will.

FIRST CHAUTAUQUA MAN HERE, BEST PROGRAM YET

Chautauqua's first advance man, Mr. W. C. Jordan, reached Bedford, Monday June 7th, and cooperated with local committee in the distributing of preliminary advertising. Dates of the big event are being impressed by "flyers" put out in liberal quantities.

Season tickets, both adult and junior, have been placed on sale and indications are favorable for a successful campaign. With the Chautauqua approximately three weeks distant, the committee is encouraged to predict an accumulating enthusiasm that will mean a new record in the number of tickets sold.

Bedford is one of the 65 towns on a four state circuit operated this season by the Redpath Company. In previous years most of these towns have been supplied with entertainment by the Lincoln Chautauqua System which recently became a part of the Redpath. Those familiar with the various Chautauqua producing companies state that under the Redpath management an even better program may be expected than those furnished here in previous years. The dates are June 25th—30th.

FORESTRY TO GUARD SHORTAGE OF PULP WOOD.

For the benefit of the newspapers of this State the Pennsylvania Department of Forestry has started an investigation into the possibilities of growing trees for pulp wood on the State Forests. The inquiry was begun because of the acute and increasing shortage of pulpwood throughout the country. If successful, North Carolina Poplar will be planted extensively to provide a future supply of timber for the manufacture of newspaper print.

Although two attempts have been made in the State to establish plantations of North Carolina Poplar on a commercial scale, Chief Forester Pinchot believes it can be accomplished with success if proper methods are used. He has instructed John W. Keller, chief of the Bureau of Silviculture, to conduct the inquiry.

Keller has inspected a plantation of North Carolina Poplars made twenty-two years ago near Tyrone by the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. Trees 10 to 12 feet high were planted 10 feet apart on a rocky hillside. The plantation is regarded a failure, as it grew slowly, and was attacked by oyster shell scale and borers. Keller believes, however, that if smaller trees were planted on better soil and closer together, more satisfactory results would be obtained.

North Carolina Poplar is one of the fastest growing trees in this climate. It often averages well over an inch in diameter each year, so that in ten or twelve years lumbering could be profitably undertaken. Its texture is admirably adapted to the manufacture of pulp for newspaper uses.

$500 RETURNED BY SHOW MANAGER

Lloyd Smith, of Freedom, Blair County, while attending a show at Gaysport, Blair County was skinned out of $500 while trying to beat the operator of a shell game at Rhoda Royal's show.

After the stranger had taken Smith's $500 he closed up the stand and said he had to go for his lunch but he never returned. Smith had constable C. A. Hoenstine to follow the show but no trace of the fellow could be found until they came to Bedford when Smith and Hoenstine called on the Sheriff of Bedford County to meet them at the show grounds to search for the fellow. The sheriff didn't appear so the two went after the search themselves and found the swindler secluded in a tent. Hoenstine had an exciting time getting to the fakir but he landed on him eventually. The manager of the show was summoned who paid the $500 back and in addition $15 costs.

LESSON FOR JUNE 13

A SHEPHERD BOY CHOSEN KING.

LESSON TEXT—I Sam. 16:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward.

—I Sam. 16:13.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Ps. 2.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of a Shepherd Boy.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Kingly Shepherd Boy.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Road to Promotion.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Possibilities of Youth.

I. The Lord Rebuked Samuel for Excessive Grief (v. 1).

It was a bitter experience for Samuel to pronounce God's judgment upon Saul. The cause of Samuel's grief was threefold:

1. The wreck of a promising life. In all history, perhaps, a life with greater promise cannot be found, and yet it affords no example of a more wretched failure.

2. A personal loss. No doubt as the spiritual adviser of the king, Samuel found many things in him to admire. His removal, therefore, Samuel most keenly felt.

3. Anxiety for the national welfare. Samuel knew quite well that a change of dynasty oftentimes meant severe war and the reign of anarchy. This would very seriously weaken the already weak kingdom. His concern for the people's good was therefore a part of his grief. One can readily see why Samuel should mourn, but as a prophet of God he should not have indulged to excess. The Lord's question "How long will thou mourn for Saul?" has in it a rebuke for Samuel. Grief for others is a sacred thing, but whenever it is carried so far as to interfere with one's duty it becomes sinful.

II. Samuel Sent to Bethlehem to Anoint Saul's Successor (vv. 1-5).

Though Saul failed, God is able to provide a successor who is better than he. Samuel is directed to go to Bethlehem and from among the sons of Jesse choose a successor. Samuel again showed his weakness in expressing his fear lest Saul should kill him. If God sends a man on an errand what matters it though a thousand Saul's be waiting to kill him? Even though it means death, if God sends, who dare refuse or offer excuse? God instructed him to avoid publicity by the concealment of his real purpose. Some may question the diplomacy of Samuel, but we must remember that no one is under obligation to tell all that he knows, especially to parties who have no moral right to know. To withhold truth which is necessary morally to tell is duplicity which dare not be practiced. God allowed Samuel to hide his true errand under the cloak of a sacrifice in order to shelter his weakness. The whole matter was already decided; the moral acts were already committed; the issues were already faced. The exposure of Samuel to the murderous hatred of Saul would have only made matters worse.

III. The Method of God's Choice (vv. 6-12).

The elders of Bethlehem were somewhat alarmed when Samuel came. He, in the exercise of his judgeship, went from place to place, and at times he doubtless had to deal in severity with the people. He calmed their fears by assuring them that he came peaceably, even to worship God. While the preparation for the sacrifice was being made, Samuel seems to have had the interview with Jesse and his sons. When the eldest of Jesse's sons passed before him he decided that this stalwart young man must be God's choice, but God told him that man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart. We should learn, like Samuel was obliged to do, that the qualifications in God's sight for workers are inward, not bodily. The one who does God's work must do it by leaning upon him, not through personal strength or endowments. To the utter surprise of Samuel and Jesse, David the shepherd boy, was chosen.

IV. Samuel Anoints David (v. 13).

When this stripping of a boy came before Samuel, the Lord indicated his choice. Samuel proceeded to anoint him. This anointing typified the endowment of the Holy Spirit, which is essential for any and all service for God. The preparation which David needed for the office of king was just what he got as a shepherd boy. God's choices are not arbitrary. As king, his responsibility was to defend, feed, and lead God's flock, and this he had learned to do as he attended his father's flock. This promotion of the shepherd boy should be an encouragement for boys of lowly station in life.

If You Want to Be Miserable.
"If you want to be miserable, you must think about yourself, about what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay you, and then to you nothing will be pure. You will spoil everything you touch. You will make sin and misery out of everything which God sends you. You will be as wretched as you choose."

The Good and Bad.
To the good the world is very good; to the bad it is bad.

To Keep American Ships on the Seas

For the first time since the Civil War we have a real merchant marine. It cost us $3,000,000,000 to get it.

The farmer, manufacturer, laborer—every American is interested in holding our position on the seas.

As a first step in this direction it is necessary to modify those articles of existing commercial treaties which have operated to thwart the upbuilding of our merchant marine—

By giving the notice of termination for which the several treaties provide.

This action is directed in the constructive Shipping Bill now before Congress;

Which declares it to be the policy of the United States "to do whatever may be necessary to develop and encourage" a merchant marine.

This policy deserves the support of every American.

Lacking this support the present effort to maintain our merchant marine may suffer the fate of many ineffective attempts of the past.

Send for a copy of "For an American Merchant Marine."

James Clarence Mangan.

One of the most gifted poets, and at the same time not generally or popularly known, was James Mangan, whose profound knowledge of the languages, as well as his gift of poetic expression, can not help but impress even the most casual reader with this eccentric genius' power and versatility. He was an untiring worker, and all of his powers were kept constantly in play on account of his need of money to maintain not only his own immediate family, but to support an indigent father and mother. His overburdened mentality led him to resort to stimulants when his spirit was broken from overexertion, and after a life of many vicissitudes he died in a hospital June 20, 1849—some say from cholera, others, from starvation.

Clay Beds of the Connecticut.

In the clay beds of the Connecticut are found certain wonderful and beautiful concretions. These appear in four principal types: Disk-shaped, cylindrical, botryoidal (resembling grape clusters), and imitations of animal forms. The latter are the more striking, the forms imitated including fishes, birds, ant-eaters, elephants, dogs, lions, tigers, etc. A remarkable fact is that each clay-bed has a form of concretion peculiar to itself, and the principal types are never found intermingled in the same bed. The beds are composed of stratified, river-drift clays, or "Champlain" clays.

"Silence is golden" so a woman slammed the door.

Wasn't Going to be an Any.

It was tea time and a boy came to the table with soiled hands. Mother immediately told him to leave the table. "Why," said she, "you must be washed. I wouldn't think of letting you touch a piece of bread with such hands." The child made no attempt to leave. He evidently concluded he could remain just as he was, for he said: "O, that's all right, mamma; that's all right. I didn't want bread anyway."

Dogs in Warfare.

Airedales are accounted one of the best breeds of war dogs. When the Airedale detects the foe he makes no fuss; he merely makes a low growl and stiffens his body—hints sufficient for the human sentinel, who immediately puts his dumb friend's advice to good account.

Putting His Luck to the Test.

In old Japan, when a man wanted to get a wife, he went to the house of the girl whom he fancied and threw one of his shoes into the yard. If the shoe was picked up and taken inside by her, he looked for a favorable issue; but if it were cast out again, he went away disconsolate.

Quite Welcome.

"I went up to the front door of the lodging house and rang, and when the landlady came I asked, 'Can I stay here?' She answered, 'Yes,' you can stay there as long as you like," and TODAY there are more than 7,000,000 of them in the country. Pretty soon nearly everybody in this section will be traveling around in his own automobile.

It's all very well to take some dealer's word about a tire—if you know who he is and his object in selling it to you.

Our object in selling U. S. Tires is to have you come back for more—and be glad that we sold them to you.

U. S. Tires have a record behind them.

They are built by the people who perfected the first straight side automobile tire, who produced the first pneumatic truck tire.

Two of the greatest contributions to tire and motor economy ever made.

Derivation of "Yankee."

The word Yankee as a noun, is defined as follows: "(1) A person born or living in New England; a word of doubtful origin, said by some to be the same as Scotch yankie and by others to be a form of Yenghees, a corruption of French Anglais by the Canadian Indians. Smollett used the term in 1762 in his 'Adventures of Lancelot Greaves,' p. 45: 'Proceed . . . without yawning like a Dutch yankie.' Here the reference may be to a Dutch sailor or sailing-vessel. The origin has not yet been definitely ascertained. (2) Hence, a citizen of the United States; a foreign, chiefly British, usage. (3) A northerner; especially, a federal soldier; so called in the south, particularly during the civil war."

Theodore's Bright Idea.

Theodore was fond of olives, but his father had forbidden him to eat them. At dinner one day, during his father's absence, a large dish of olives had been placed near Theodore's plate. He looked at it longingly and said: "Mamma, let's play a joke on daddy and eat some olives."

Flaws in Diamonds.

Flaws in the diamond consist largely of black or carbon spots. These are formed of uncrystallized carbon. Nature in the case of the spotted diamond stayed her hand before she had completed the process of perfect crystallization.

CANNING FRUIT WITHOUT SUGAR

Mrs. Mary B. Howlett

"I know you are wondering whether or not I have a message that will really be of help to you in saving the surplus fruit this summer, and I believe I have. I do not imagine that many of you are going to pay 25 or 30 cents for sugar for canning, but do you know that it is practicable to preserve fruit without a grain of this high priced sweetener by simply canning it in water?"

"During the World War we had a chance to test fruits canned without sugar and when that commodity was scarce and in fact impossible to get in quantities we considered them very good. Fruits canned without sugar do not retain their natural flavor, texture and color quite so well, but the difference is so slight that it is scarcely noticeable.

"Of course, the fruit will have to be sweetened before using but by this method it will not be necessary to buy so much sugar at a time and we shall have a chance to risk lower prices next winter. The biggest advantage tho. is that those who otherwise would have to let their surplus fruit go to waste, unless they wish to dry it, can preserve it as usual simply by adding water instead of sugar syrup.

"The method of canning fruit with out sugar is very simple. Cull, stem or seed and clean the fruit by placing it in a strainer and pouring water over it until clean. Pack the product thoroughly in glass jars until full, using a tableknife or tablespoon for packing. Pour boiling water over the fruit, place rubbers and caps in position, partly seal glass jars and place them in the canner.

"If using a hot water-bath outfit sterilize 20 to 30 minutes. Or sterilize 10 minutes in a steam-pressure canner under 5 pounds steam pressure. Never allow the pressure to go over 10 pounds when canning soft fruits.

"After sterilizing remove the jars, seal and wrap in paper to prevent bleaching, and store in a dry, cool place.

"There you have it. Isn't that simple enough? If perfect jars and rubbers are used and directions are followed carefully there is no reason why you shouldn't have all the fruit you can eat next winter, in spite of the high cost of sugar.

"Before I finish I shall explain about adjusting the covers of the various kinds of jars before putting them in the canner for processing because so many women have asked me about this point.

"If using the screw-top jars screw down with the thumb and little finger, not using force but stopping when the cover catches.

"If using vacuum seal jars put the cover on and the spring in place. The spring will give enough to allow the steam to escape.

"In using glass-top jars with the patent wire snap, put the cover in place, the wire over the top and leave the clamp up. The cover on a glass jar must not be tight while the product is cooking because the air will expand when heated, and if the cover is not loose enough to allow the steam to escape the pressure may blow the rubber out or break the jar.

"If you use any type of hot-water bath outfit be sure the water is boiling when the fruit is lowered into the canner, and keep it boiling vigorously for the entire 20 to 30 minutes. At the end of the sterilizing time, immediately remove the jars from the canner and see that they are protected from drafts in so doing."

NEWSPAPER MEN IN WAR.

Gen. John J. Pershing's tribute to the loyalty and faithfulness of the American correspondents with the army in France confirms the popular estimate of these men who risked their lives that the people might have all the news while it was news. As the general writes: "They subordinated their instinctive and natural desire as newspaper men for news to the obligation of intelligent co-operation with the military authorities, who of necessity were alone in position to judge when and what items could be safely transmitted. I can remember no occasion when a correspondent knowingly violated the trust placed in him. . . . They co-operated with the army splendidly and played the game which helped us win the war." There is nothing new in this eulogy. The training of their occupation makes newspaper men admirably amenable to discipline. Their loyalty and trained intelligence gave them understandable viewpoints that made it impossible for them to become a menace or endanger in any way maneuvers of attack. They did their duty there as they have ever done it no matter where they might be with a combination of brains, heart and activity. Their chief goal is to tell the truth, and in France they did what was to be expected of them to uphold the dignity and reliability of their profession.

Many states have some kind of organization for forest work. A state forester, ordinarily a thoroughly trained technical man, is usually employed, at a salary of from $2,000 to $4,000 a year. Their assistants receive from $1,000 to $2,500. Work in state forestry is in various stages of development in different parts of the country, says Boys' Life. In time, when all states with any forest interests have organizations, there should be an increased demand for men in state work. Lumber, railway, water, and mining companies, recreation and hunting clubs, camps, large private estates, and farms offer a broad field of work to the trained forester. A big opportunity exists in the lumber business for the forester with a thorough practical knowledge of the lumber industry. This field offers probably the greatest opportunity for trained foresters in the future. There is a limited demand for suitable trained men as teachers of forestry and as research workers.

Reports say applications in New York for vacation work on farms have risen to a thousand a week, says New York World. That farmers can use all the hands that can show themselves measurably able is a fact well advertised. Perhaps the basis is suggested here of an arrangement even more profitable than an intercollegiate exchange of professors. Tired city clerks, stenographers, and teachers to find restful change among the hand-workers in summer; Mr. Farmer to spend in relaxation among the city sights in winter some of the extra profits due to the urbanites who help in the harvest—what ideal in co-operation could be more practically worked out?

The farm cow that gives milk for human food stands first, with a total value of $2,022,000,000, as compared with other classes of farm animals for January 1, 1920, by the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture. Not even the total value of all other cattle is equal to the value of the dairy cow. The average price per head of milk cows in this country has increased from $38.25, since January 1, 1915, to $69.95, the average for 1919, or a gain of 58 per cent in five years, according to the bureau.

People who desire to travel to the moon in a projectile pay another of numerous tributes to the imagination of Jules Verne. The French novelist, however, did not pave the way as clearly for an earth-moon express as he did for the submarine. And even that, when completed, served no good purpose.

It is said the dollar haircut is on the way, which reminds us that in our juvenile days, shearing was done at home. But so was shining, patching and other things like that, and the Schoolmaster helped with the switching.

Notwithstanding the differences of opinion in regard to the increases in the price of coal, we'll have to pay them if we get the coal. Getting the money is undoubtedly the most important business of these busy days.

Perfection's Price
In Tire Building

A tire-maker's first problem is to decide how much he can give for the money. This, and every other question in tire building, depends upon policies.

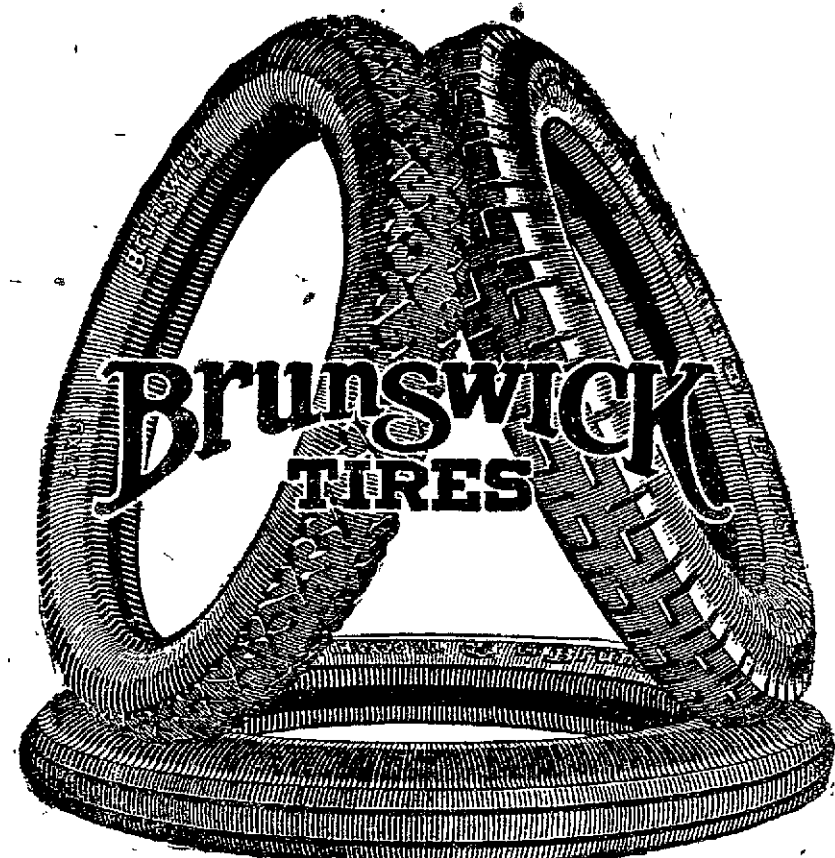

A super-tire, such as The Brunswick, can be made only by a concern which knows well and appreciates that there is nothing exclusive in the tire industry except high standards.

Since 1845 the House of Brunswick has held first place in every line it entered. Brunswick Tires, as more and more motorists come to know them, will certainly be awarded that coveted place held only by the superfine.

Motorists who buy one Brunswick usually adopt it for complete equipment. Yet this is not strange, since the first one so completely proves its superiority.

If the name of Brunswick certifies to you, as to most men, an extraordinary tire, at no higher price, would it not be good business to test one or two Brunswick Tires?

HERE'S WHO GETS THE PROFITS

ON, ON TO PLUNDER

Is civilized America, which went to war only the other day for humanity's sake, hearing today an echo from the Dark Ages when barbarians of Middle Europe shouted, "On, on to Plunder," as they mercilessly robbed and destroyed? Here are some items from Senator Capper's recent speech in the Senate, demanding that the people be protected from greed and that the profiteers be sent to jail.

In one year during the war the gross income of American corporations rose from 35 1-2 billion dollars to $4 1/2 billion dollars.
Average gross profits of 79,642 American corporations was 500 million dollars apiece in a single year.

The 1919 profits of the Amoskeag spinning mills were seven times greater than its 1918 profits and its 1918 profits were 13 times greater than its profits for the whole four years between 1912 and 1916.

The increase in price from the farm price of cotton to the store price of cotton materials is about 1,500 per cent.

The Easley Cotton Mills recently declared a stock dividend of 300 per cent and the Belton Cotton Mills a dividend of 190 per cent.

Earnings in many corporations exceed 100 per cent and some even exceed 1,000 per cent over and above all costs and taxes.

Piracy of the sugar trust in its annual robbery at canning time is so colossal and criminal that Captain Kidd is a Sunday school character in comparison.

The International Cotton Company produced 20 per cent less goods and earned 29 per cent more profit last year.

Oil has advanced more than 650 per cent since 1915.
Profits of the American Hide & Leather company increased from 44 cents a share on common stock in 1915 to $15 52 a share in 1919.

The accumulated surplus of the Central Leather company rose from 7 1/2 million dollars in 1914 to 30 1/2 million dollars in 1919.

The National Enameling & Stamping company has increased its net profits on kitchen ware to 326 per cent—Capper's Farmer.

FYAN

Plowing corn is now the employment of our farmers.

Andrew Imgrund returned home
Monday from a week or 10 days visit to relatives in Cambria County.

Miss Vera Hillegass and gentlemen friend attended the circus at Bedford on Monday.

Mrs. John C. Bence and two children, Forrest and Helen and Harry Lyons visited friends at Lavandville over Sunday.

Simon McCreary after spending the past six years at Denton Md., is again here. Simon still has the same old grin. Welcome home again, old boy!

Rolla Hillegass and wife, of Jerusalem Valley Sundayed in our midst.

John Deener of Smoky Ridge spent Saturday night and Sunday at the W. H. Deener home.

Urban Imgrund expects to erect a new dwelling in the near future.
That's right, Urb, get the page then the bird.

John C. Bence recently gave his house a new roof which adds greatly to its appearance.

Alex Frazier of Pinnacle Point, was seen motoring through here Tuesday.

Mayor Thompson, of Chicago, who is doing heroic work for "T.H."
Johnson, is the patriot who three years ago refused to receive Marshal Joffre and the French delegation which visited this country soon after we entered the war, and who would not allow Liberty bonds to be sold in the City Hall till he was bullied into withdrawing his refusal. Whether Mr. Thompson's interest in Senator Johnson is due to his own peculiar conception of patriotism, or simply to a desire to defeat Governor Lowden is a matter of conjecture.

GOITRE

Removed For This Hagerstown Lady
by External Home Remedy.

Note: It would be illegal to publish these statements if they were not true.

Miss Rettle Miller, 131 E. Washington St., Hagerstown, Md., says in her own home paper, the Hagerstown Mail: "I have had goitre for 20 years. It grew until it was on both sides and middle. One bottle of Sorbol Quadriple has completely removed it from both sides. I feel that this second bottle will completely remove the third part left in front. My health is much improved. It has relieved me of distress, palpitation and smothering when I would lie down. It is a wonderful remedy and I am willing to tell my experience, even by letter."

Sorbol Quadriple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate. Does not interfere with regular work. Leaves parts in beautiful normal condition. Restores ten minutes daily.

CHAUTAUQUA ENTERTAINERS

QUARTET FEATURES BELLS AT CHAUTAUQUA

DUNBAR BELL RINGERS.

THE members of this quartet appear in vocal solos, quartets and readings, and carry 150 hand bells, upon which are played some of the best overtures and solo numbers. No feature of their program on Chautauqua's first day will be remembered longer than the beautiful chimes and harmonies introduced in their sacred selections. Sufficient humor is offered to lighten the program and to sustain the reputation long held by the Dunbars as musical entertainers extraordinary.

The bells used in their instrumental program were made by the same foundry that cast the great bells of Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's Cathedral in London. The largest weighs 25 pounds and is 16 inches in diameter.

FIRST SPEAKER AT CHAUTAUQUA

L. E. YORK.

HERE is one of the most engaging figures on the platform. His Chautauqua theme on the opening night is "A Prince There Is." It will especially interest young people.

Mr. York is a master of oratory, arresting attention the moment he appears before an audience. His lecture combines charm and simplicity, beauty of thought and expression, skill and preparation and a thousand other subtle qualities which always appeal to the listener. He has an eye for the picturesque, the poetic and the humorous. His feats of word painting are characterized by exquisite taste and skill.

BEDFORD TESTIMONY

HOME PROOF, HERE, THERE AND EVERYWHERE

When you see Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in this paper you most always find the recommender a Bedford resident. It's the same everywhere in 3,800 towns in the U. S. Fifty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honesty and truth? Home testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Bedford recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting:

William H. Trout, 202 Spring St. says: "About a year ago I was doing some heavy lifting and a day or so after I noticed a bad pain in the small of my back. I had awful headaches in the morning and there were pains all over me when I tried to bend over. I was almost doubled up with the pains in my back. One of the family who is a great believer in Doan's Kidney Pills induced me to try them. After taking half a box the pain in my back gradually left and after continuing the use of Doan's a while longer, all these symptoms of kidney trouble disappeared. I cannot say enough for this remedy and I am glad of the opportunity to endorse them.

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Trout had. Foster Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ring Strangely Recovered.

A wedding ring was found in the stomach of a cod caught on the Grand banks. The ring belonged to Mrs. Pauline Burnham, an English woman, who had lost it when the steamship Anglo-Saxon went down in 1861. The fisherman traced the ownership of the ring and sent it back to the son of Mrs. Burnham, who is said to have rewarded him with a present of $250.

Chameleons' Food.

The proper diet of chameleons and lizards consists of flies and other insects; also meal worms, and the common idea that sugar and water will serve in winter is incorrect. A good many of these animals refuse food in the winter months and all of them need warmth and sunshine, as well as water. They are difficult to keep in health, and if not given their natural food will starve to death in time, though their ability to fast for long periods is well known.

Time's Unfortunate Change.

The little boy who is afraid to speak a piece in school in many cases grows up to be the man who isn't happy unless he is talking by the hour.

A Mad Car?

Myself and family were out for our usual Sunday ride. We were driving along a fairly smooth road, which gradually became more rough. Finally little Rose, who had become tired of being bumped about, exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, has the car lost its temper?"—Exchange.

Ancient Perfume.

It seems strange to read of saffron as a perfume, but such it was almost universally, and an element of "romance" about it lies in the story told by Hakluyt of a pilgrim smuggling, at the risk of his life, from the Levant, a head of saffron in a hollow made in his staff.

Theo Fore expressing his opinion of things generally a few days ago, said, he had never done any singing himself but had heard a great many others sing and believed if he were to try he could do as well as Miss Begonia Allison, who always manages in some way to get on the program where singing is to be done. Begonia has heard of this unkind remark and Theo is now hiding out.

Bob Smith in looking over some statistics yesterday noticed that every third baby born in the world is a Chinaman. Bob has nine children. He will now endeavor to find out something about the pedigree of the other six.

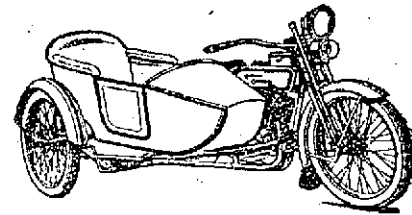

There is no closed season for those who are hunting trouble.

POMONA MEETING

Bedford County Pomona No. 24 held its regular quarterly meeting in the K of P. Lodge room last Thursday with the Worthy Master, Mr. S. U. Troutman, presiding. The forenoon session was devoted to business and the hearing of reports of the subordinate granges and the report of the insurance director, which showed an increase of $32,662 in fire insurance risks.

The subordinate granges reported a very substantial increase in membership, a new grange has been organized at Hopewell with three hundred and twenty five members which is a credit to the vicinity of Hopewell.

The first topic for the afternoon was the report of the Extension Farm Agent Mr. L. R. Mollenauer, which was very encouraging and urging the cooperation of farmers for their betterment.

The ladies and some of the men decided that it would be impossible to take a 10 day vacation at some summer resort, as there would be no one to attend the farm while they were away. The outlook for the young man working for wages in city or country is more favorable for the country from a moral and spiritual standpoint.

The marketing of fruit was one of the topics that was discussed by various members in a very creditable manner.

Resolution were passed authorizing the master to appoint a committee of five to wait on the board of managers of the Bedford County fair association for good clean shows, expressing to Mr. W. A. King proprietor of Bedford Somerset Auto Co. for his gift of $25.00 for the Farm Bureau and that we approve the appeal of Sister Clara Russell. Evening or fifth degree session was well attended, quite a number took the fourth degree. The picnic committee reported the county or Pomona picnic will be held in Fyans Grove, two miles east of Bedford, August 4th.

W. F. Biddle Secretary.
